Dear Mr Wheatley,

Your use of Worldline intellectual property

It has come to our attention that certain files relating to train announcements are being hosted on websites that you operate and are being made available by you for download by the public. The annex to this letter contains some of the relevant URLs with screen shots for your reference.

These voice recordings are protected by copyright which is owned by Worldline IT Services UK Limited, previously known as Atos Worldline (“Worldline”). Further they contain the personal data of the individual whose voice features on the recordings.

Publication of such recordings without Worldline’s consent is prohibited by intellectual property legislation. Publication is also prohibited under data protection laws without the express permission of the individual concerned.

The files are being communicated to the public and reproduced as described without either Worldline’s or the individual’s consent. You may have obtained these files from a third party website and mistakenly believed that consent had been obtained to publish these recordings or that these recordings had been legitimately obtained from a Freedom of Information request. However this is not the case and where we have become aware of any websites hosting these files, they have been removed following our formal request.

This letter gives you actual knowledge of the infringement of Worldline’s and the individual’s rights. This means that if you continue to share or enable access to the files after having this actual knowledge, further enforcement action can be taken and this may have serious financial consequences for you.

Accordingly we request that you act promptly to remove or disable the link to the recordings and to destroy the files along with any other files containing Worldline intellectual property.

We would be grateful for your confirmation of receipt of this letter and confirmation that you will disable or remove access to and destroy the recordings within 5 working days of the date of this letter.

Yours sincerely,

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX
XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

ATOS Anne announcement files

This repository contains practically all announcement files for ATOS Anne used on the Atos Worldline announcement system.

The original copy of all files can be found inside the `original` folder.

A copy of all original files in mp3 format can be found in the `mp3` folder.

Assembling announcements

A basic Windows app is found at `original/LICC/bin/Debug/LICC.exe` and can be used for generating various station announcements. This app was not created by me, and I have found it to be unstable at times.

Copyright and license

All audio files are the copyright of Atos Worldline.
